PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

WOW! What a great 2011 NAEA National Conference. Please look at the list of members on page 12 who attended. Ask them about their experience. Mine was great.

Saturday I worked as a volunteer at the Registration Desk. Laurie Ziegler, EA (Wisconsin) our Affiliate Council Rep. was in charge of the registration desk (see picture below). There were 780 individuals at the convention. It was held at the Mandalay Bay Hotel in Las Vegas (it will also be there in 2012). The facilities were excellent. Lots of places to eat, shows to see, and of course the casino for those so inclined.

There were three full days of education. NTPI is a standard at the convention. Two of us received our Fellow Certificates at the Graduation on Wednesday night – Daniel Lowenthal and myself. Beside the NTPI, there was also a Tax Prep track, Build Your Business Track, SEE Review, and a Graduate Level in Representation.

David Williams, Director, Return Preparer Office, IRS was the speaker on Sunday night. Beth Tucker, IRS Deputy Commissioner for Operation Support spoke on Monday night. Both had very interesting things to say. Of particular note was that Operations anticipate launching new technology January 2012 that will allow tax returns to be posted on a daily basis.

The NAEA National Conference is a great way to get your CPE hours and to network with other EAs from around the country.

SURVEYS – SURVEYS – SURVEYS

Your CoSEA Board is always interested in what our members want out of their membership. To do this, we will at times send out a survey asking various questions. We just did one on Social Media – about a third of you responded. The responses were very enlightening.

Perhaps the survey went into your “spam” or “junk” folder. If you see an email from surveys@taxproco.com please ADD to your safe list.

Surveys are an important tool for your Board. We appreciate your taking a few minutes to answer them.

Jeanine's Journal

Dear Members and Affiliates:

Welcome to the end of summer and the start of fall! Where did that summer go anyway?

This issue contains a letter from President Linda along with important news and reminders. Please remember to purchase your tickets for the Holiday Party by the due date noted on page 6. Note also that advertising and payments will now be handled by Paul Ketcham.

This is my last column that I will be writing to you. It is time to “hand over the torch” to Paul Ketcham. He will start his new position with the November-December issue of the newsletter. Paul has a lot of fresh ideas for the newsletter, is an awesome individual and I know that you will like what he does.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the great four years that I have served as your Newsletter Editor. It has also been a joy to serve in multiple other capacities over this time frame: Education Director, Board Director and Vice-President. The board members have been enthusiastic and innovative as a team over my time of service, and I know that the upcoming board members will be awesome as well.

Thank you all for your support of the newsletter and my contributions to making it a continually better publication.

Best regards,

Jeanine

Paul's Points to Ponder

Just to make certain everyone is on the same page, I have included some extra items of interest:

Both Denver and the State of Colorado have announced a 'TAX AMNESTY PROGRAM' for sales tax, use tax, Denver Occupational Privilege Tax and various Colorado Income taxes. The program is from October 1, 2011 through December 30, 2011 and covers the noted taxes for any period ending on or before

June 30, 2011. Pay the tax owed and half the interest costs on unreported or underpaid taxes, WITHOUT PENALTY. Not a bad deal for our clients.

As mentioned later in this newsletter, two individuals, Daniel H Lowenthal and our own Linda Ward, have graduated from NPFI and become Fellows. CONGRATULATIONS TO YOU BOTH!!

Please keep the NAEA toll free number and the extensions of the Executive Office personnel.

Just to reiterate the notice on page 5, the Colorado Department of Revenue recently announced that, beginning August 29th, you can access Colorado Business tax accounts, including Income Tax [C-Corp, S-Corp, Fiduciary, and Partnerships], sales tax, use tax, special event sales tax, withholding, IRTA and exempt fuel refunds.

I participated in a Beta Test of the CDOR program to allow practitioners to e-file all Business returns, hopefully (?) for the 2011 filing year, beginning January 1, 2012. Unfortunately, there were numerous problems with the program that I hope will be cleared up. By the way, according to the testing people with whom I spoke, the Colorado Business e-file WILL NOT be able to piggy-back with the Federal e-file. Hope that gets corrected.

There is a federal and Colorado web site for the NEW HIRE program recently instituted. They are: <http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/cse/newhire/employer/private/newhire.htm#medium> and <https://newhire.state.co.us/newhire/do/>. This is basic information for all new hires.

CareerTrack has a program on "Social Media Marketing", offered October 11th, which I will be attending. The Board of Directors is trying to market our Society and the overall awareness of Enrolled Agents through a variety of avenues. After this issue of the Newsletter is sent out, there will be a follow-up survey from us, attempting to quantify the various social media networks that our members use and might recommend.

Please be certain to read the IRS Forum minutes for up-to-date information.

Finally, I wanted to thank Jeanine for all the work, sweat and blood she gave to the newsletter and all of her other capacities over the years. She has been and is an extremely valuable asset to the Board, to the members and to me. Thank you Jeanine for everything you have done.

A personal note: My 6 year old female greyhound, Maloney, was recently diagnosed with cancer. It is a very sad situation, but we are trying to make her as comfortable as we can.

I have also attached a short piece from Greg Williams, the new Executive Director of the Public Accountants Society of Colorado [PASC]. I know many of our members are also members of PASC. I asked him for the piece, so we can continue to keep the lines of communication open.

EXPIRATION OF FUTA SURTAX

UNLESS IT IS EXTENDED, THE .2% TEMPORARY SURTAX WILL EXPIRE ON JUNE 30, 2011.

Employers pay a 6.2% gross unemployment tax rate on the first $7,000 of employee wages. The 6.2% rate is made up of a 6% permanent tax rate and .2% temporary surtax that went into effect in 1976.

If the surtax is not extended, then employers will need to separately track FUTA taxable wages paid before July 1, 2011 and after June 30, 2011.

CURRENTLY there is a 5.4% credit if the employer paid all their state unemployment tax timely. Based on the expiration of the .2% temporary surtax, the adjusted FUTA rate would be .6% for all taxable FUTA wages paid after June 30, 2011.

WATCH FOR FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS.

FEDERAL UPDATES

IRS Practitioner Liaison Meeting Summary

The meeting was held July 26th 2011 in the downtown Denver, Colorado, IRS office. The following is a summary of the meeting presentations by presenter as prepared by Deborah Rodgers, IRS Senior Stakeholder Liaison.

Jack Estoll, IRS Appeals

Information Release 2011-78 discusses the revision to the ex parte rules. Internal Revenue Service is accepting comments through August 18 2011. The Reform Act of 1998 said that Appeals was independent within IRS and could not talk about substantial issues with other functions of the Internal Revenue Service. One key change is that Appeals will no longer participate on Issue Management Teams (IMT). Appeals can be briefed by the IMT's as long as the discussion remains generic rather than case specific.

Hiring in Appeals is limited. One exception to the freeze is the potential of one more GS- 13 in Denver. Denver settlement officers are managed from St. Paul Minnesota by Terri Cismowski.

Inventories are stable but higher than we would like to see.

FastTrack Settlement is being piloted and can actually resolve the case and may be available to all sometime next Fiscal year. Fast Track Mediation on the other hand, is currently available, but the mediator has no option to offer a settlement on the case, the parties must reach an agreement.

Question: Where are the Appeals coordinators located?

Response: Appeals coordinators are part of the compliance function. The Ogden Campus handles all of the penalty cases. If the case is too complex, ask for a face to face and the case will go to the field.

Miles Fuller, IRS District Counsel

Counsel has moved to a new location, 617th St. the Dominion Towers Building.

Colorado SB/SE Counsel is part of Area Five that includes Montana, Wyoming, Arizona, Nevada, and New Mexico.

There is an obvious increase in enforcement with Internal Revenue Service counterparts, especially regarding offshore issues and voluntary disclosures. Case load seems to be remaining constant.

Question: There is a rumor that counsel is trying to get rid of CDP cases as soon as possible. What do you look at it historically; are there criteria that we can discuss?

Response: CDP cases can be resource intensive for Counsel. Like all cases, the way we approach CDP cases is to work them efficiently. In the majority of CDP cases the only issue is whether the IRS should pursue a proposed Lien or Levy.

Usually there are no issues about whether the taxpayer opposes tax liability at issue; taxpayers just say they can't pay the tax. The Tax Court reviews these cases to see if the settlement officer abused his/her discretion. Counsel believes the Court should look at what was provided to settlement officers, without new information added to the case. As such, Counsel believes the cases can be put before the Court with little additional development. Counsel, however, generally tries to confer with a taxpayer at least once before going to Court.

Comment: Most of the settlement officers are fine, but every once in a while I just seem to get one that wants to get the case off their desk.

Response to comment: While we believe the Internal Revenue Service exercises due diligence in all cases, there have been a few situations where Counsel has sent a case back to a settlement officer who might have missed something. If you question the treatment that you're getting don't hesitate to contact the manager. If the case is with counsel, let the assigned counsel attorney know about the specific concerns you have.

Question: What is the Internal Revenue Service's position on medical marijuana dispensaries? Are medical marijuana dispensaries allowed to take their deductions?

Response: Medical marijuana is an evolving issue. Drug trafficking is illegal under federal law. Generally, the issues raised with respect to medical marijuana are governed by I.R.C. § 280E and the relevant case law. Cases involving medical marijuana and dispensaries are very fact specific, making it difficult for the Internal Revenue Service to provide generalized guidance applicable to all cases.

Shelley Foster, IRS Examination

The Examination Area Director expressed her excitement to be included in the meeting this morning and asked the practitioners if they would prefer her level or one of her territory managers to attend these meetings in the future.

There are 950 employees in the Western Area Exam.

There are several challenges that Examination is facing. We're still waiting for legal guidance on the medical marijuana cases. The conservation easement cases are coming to an end. IRS is facing a $606 million dollar budget cut; while 94% of our business operation budget is salary. Nationwide exam may be able to hire 50 new revenue agents in 2012 which means Western Area may get about 15% of those hires. With the 5% projected budget cut, travel and training are limited. Most of the travel budget will go to the field examiners for working cases.

The proposed Examination work plan is a roll over or will remain flat, not decreasing but moving to different categories. For example, high wealth taxpayers over $200,000, Schedule C business returns, flow-through entities, Individuals with under $200,000 may decrease.

The Director is a co-sponsor of a Taxpayer Satisfaction Team. The team will look at the audit timeline, understanding the process, timely actions, open cycle days, honest communication, scheduling tools, and the use of technology. The team will also look at the possibility of team audits to avoid undo delays by Examination.

Offshore voluntary disclosures are 75% complete for 2009 initiative. The 90 day extension for 2011 taxpayers ends in November. The 2011 cases will mostly be handled by the Austin campus. Exam is not incorporating the 2011 cases into the 2012 plan at this time. If an individual opts out or is removed from the current program then the case will go under examination, and if applicable will go to Criminal Investigation.

Question: Can you expand on the conservation easement issue coming to an end?

Response: We are waiting on the valuations of the properties which are handled in TE/GE and, cannot close the cases until the valuations have been secured.

The Director has been to the field on at least 10 occasions, to put a finger on the pulse and better understand what actions may not add value to the audit process. This also allows for expanded employee engagement, which provides opportunity to share thoughts and ideas as she strives to improve employee relations for an improved work environment.

Comment: I am impressed with the quality of the newer and older agents. The large audit process is more transparent. I think it helps expedite the audit.

Goretti Lysek, IRS Automated Collection Service

We've lost quite a few employees, but can't replace any due to hiring freeze. We are doing a lot of training.

There is currently a collection process study that will streamline the collection process overall. You will see some changes in fiscal year 2012.

Question: One of your employees called my office and asked me to call them. They left a message with a case reference number. I was not able to cross-reference the case with the number; is there any way to provide more information to the power of attorney such as a name?

Response: That is part of the collection process study. We are looking at the disclosure issue.

Question: Any chance of priority service on the ACS line?

Response: Yes if you use telephone number 1-866 - 860 - 4259, option 3, you will get a practitioner priority service ACS assistor.

Question: There is a problem with the phone numbers on notices. The taxpayer may have a large dollar balance due (and should therefore be speaking to the Large Dollar Unit, but the telephone number does not coincide with the notice amount. We are forced to be transferred and hold another 40 minutes.

Response: This is also part of the collection process study.

Charles Musso, Taxpayer Advocate Service

TAS is very busy. With the economy and hardship situations taxpayers are using TAS more than ever. We have had attrition but we are not hiring new employees at this time.

Our First Time Home Buyer cases are diminishing but now the Adoption Credit cases are picking up. Adoption Credit cases are being looked at very closely by the Internal Revenue Service. We are conducting Congressional visits across the state. We handle all of the Colorado Congressional cases in house. All other cases are part of the work load balancing process and can be handled by any Taxpayer Advocate across the nation.

Comment: Recently we've gone to TAS with small things such as application of payments when we've designated payments with a letter, and the payments were misapplied and defaults agreement; usually this hasn't been the case.

Another scenario is the levying of funds not belonging to the client where ACS has told the client to pay their liability in full but the business is now gone. TAS finally refunded the funds because we were able to document that the money did not belong to the taxpayer, but it was a very difficult process.

TAS: TAS can certainly assist in these situations however; we request that you attempt to rectify the situation through normal channels first. Often these issues can be quickly resolved by the originating function.

ACS: When you have a case like that you should talk to the ACS manager.

Michael Rogers, IRS Governmental Liaison

Governmental Liaison is now under the Office of Privacy, Governmental Liaison, and Disclosure (PGLD).

We work with state agencies such as the Department of Labor and the Department of Revenue. We are working with the state and several local municipalities in the exchange of data information. These partnerships have produced positive results. We receive a lot of questions regarding the tanning tax. We visit the congressional offices with TAS. We attended the national disaster conference with congressional leaders.

We are currently meeting with the Attorney General's office to see who is first in line for collection. For example IRS was first in line to get the money but the State took it and we're now trying to establish better communications between the two agencies.

Question: Why can't the State and IRS work as one on these cases?

Response: For some reason we can't work that out although we've talked about it.

Question: What is the exchange of tapes you referenced?

Response: It is the exchange of data between the municipalities and IRS. Some agencies won't issue licenses or sales permits, if taxes are owed. The data exchange even helps with the location of taxpayers.

Sean Sowards, IRS Criminal Investigation

Criminal Investigation area includes Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, and Montana. There are enough funds to hire to attrition levels. They are fully staffed in Denver and no anticipation of attrition.

International is a big focus for criminal investigation. The UBS cases are busy this year also. On the subject of medical marijuana it is a criminal offense under federal law. The Department of Justice position is that it is illegal drug trafficking and financial transactions with proceeds of marijuana sales could violate federal money laundering laws. There is not an official position within Internal Revenue Service regarding culpability of practitioners providing financial services to medical marijuana industry clients at this time so as practitioners you should proceed with caution.

Question: Is there a mandate to start investigating these types of cases?

Response: No comment.

Question: Are there other experiences out there that you could talk about?

Response: Return preparer fraud is an issue. We're looking to see how the PTIN program will impact the community. We imagine some practitioners will go underground and we will want to hear about non-signing practitioners. We are fully engaged in investigating Ponzi schemes and investment fraud.

Bessie Castro-Zepeda, Colorado Department of Revenue

The Department of Revenue's online website became available April 25. You can access payment history, make address changes, and input power of attorney requests. There was a usability study with tax professionals and many provided suggestions for improvement. We are planning a new study on August 2 which you can find on taxcolorado.com.

Department of Revenue's tax amnesty program starts October 1 through November 15.

The Department of Revenue is now auditing returns for medical marijuana sales and income tax.

The new computer system is not complete and more changes will take effect in the next year

Question: Why is the Department of Revenue not allowing direct debit or ES payments when filing a state tax return?

Response: This feature will be available August 29th with Revenue Online.

Question: What is your inventory status? Last time I heard it was 25,000.

Response: All returns have been processed. Our backlog, as of 07/26, is 28,000 which means those returns are awaiting review by a tax examiner.

Question: What are the conditions for amnesty?

Response: The Colorado Department of Revenue will allow certain taxpayers to pay the full amount of overdue taxes, including one-half of any interest due, without being subject to any other civil or criminal penalties. The Colorado tax amnesty program will run from Oct. 1 through Nov. 15, 2011 and applies to taxes that were due on or before Dec. 31, 2010. The amnesty DOES NOT include 2010 Colorado income tax, which was due April 18, 2011.

Question: Does DOR offer classes to tax practitioners specifically.

Response: We do not do a lot of CPA classes anymore, but are willing to do them on specific topics if needed. Also, we offer online classes at www.taxcolorado.com for preparers needing CPE credit.

Kristen Hoiby, IRS Stakeholder Liaison

Since Collection was unable to attend the meeting today, Stakeholder Liaison talked about the Fresh Start program. The biggest change is to allow in-business taxpayers installment agreements up to $25,000. The new guidelines also allow taxpayers to pay down the balance to meet the criteria, while previously this was not an option.

Beginning July 5, 2011, Internal Revenue Service will only be accepting the March 2011 revision of Forms 656 Offering Compromise.

The Heavy Vehicle Highway Use Tax extension is through November 30, 2011.

Treasury's FinCEN announced that there is a new system for electronically filing the TD 90-22.1 Report of Foreign Bank Account (FBAR).

Information Release 2011-80 talks about the Two-Year Limit no longer applies to many Innocent spouse requests. Include link

Nearly 6,000 Colorado organizations recently were announced to have lost their exempt status. Some of these organizations may have become extinct, but others may just have failed to file either the Form 990 or the electronic postcard to verify their existence. The list of organizations for Colorado is available on

IRS.gov. The website also provides information on how an organization can be reinstated. If a parent or umbrella organization loses its exempt status, it applies to all of the subordinate organizations, even if the subordinates met the filing requirement.

The Return Preparer Program continues to be a subject of much interest in the practitioner community, especially regarding the testing criteria. A number of the practitioners noted that there were already “return prep” courses available. It was noted that nothing could be done to stop that, but since detailed information regarding the test is not yet available, one wonders what these courses are going to cover.

Next meeting will be January 5, 2012. Save the date!

Respectfully Submitted,

John R. Dundon, Secretary

Are you or know of some member that has been in the news recently or received some award? Let us know so we can all celebrate their achievements. Contact the Newsletter Editor.

The membership committee sends out the Welcome letter to the new members of the Colorado Society of Enrolled Agents. Our letter encourages people to become an active part of the society. We give the new members an overview of the resources available to them including the Taxproco.org website, the monthly meetings where CPE credits can be earned, the bi-monthly newsletter that has articles concerning the latest tax law changes and COSEA events.

Janeen Ryan our past president monitors the current and new members notifying the committee of their status and John Dundon our secretary contacts members who have not timely renewed their membership to discuss the benefits of membership with them.

We also let the new members know about the various committees such as Meetings and Programs, Publications, Legislative, and Budget and Finance, Seminars, Website, to name a few of them they could become involved with.

The new members also receive a certificate of membership and a coupon for a free dinner for one of the monthly meetings.

The 2011 Tax Year Quickfinder - by Thompson Reuters

We will be doing a bulk order for only the 4 most popular Quickfinder Tax Handbooks which are the 1040 Edition, the Small Business Edition, the Premium Edition which is a combination of the 1040 and the Small Business handbook and the All States Edition at a reduced price again for the upcoming 2010 tax year. After 4 years they finally had a price increase. The new prices are listed below. Due to the complexity of the additional products, the CD's which sometimes they will update after the initial order, the staggered release dates of the other fine books, reference charts, etc that they offer, you will need to order these on your own.

Use the enclosed flyer with our Society's discount code Q535 to get the Association's discount price for products that you order on your own and for our Society to get the rebate credit. There are a lot of new handbooks for 2011. For additional details of these other products Quickfinder's offer go to their website quickfinder.com. These other books and products are not part of our bulk order.
